About the Farm

Finca San Carlos resides in the area of Ataco, near La Ruta de Las Flores (the flower route), which is an area of El Salvador famous for tourism. Finca San Carlos is approximately 60 hectares and has been managed by the Mendez Florez family since 2006, primarily managed by brothers Gerardo and Carlos. The farm is named after Gerardo and Carlos' father and it's also named after Saint Carlos. Aside from red bourbon being the major varietal cultivated on the farm, the Mendez Florez Family also plants many fruits such as lemons, oranges, bananas and papaya.
